

ITALIAN RAILS

Frequently Asked Questions

August 6, 2017

Dots

There is a green dot between Ancona and its nearest river. This dot is in play, and drawn in green to make it visible against the black outline.

Dry-erase Markers

Our findings with various colors of dry-erase markers thus far:

Brand: Expo:

- Black: Erases fine, but difficult to use since it matches the color of the dots.
- Blue, Dark: Erases completely, but a little dark.
- Blue, Light: Erases completely; works fine.
- Brown, Dark: Erases completely, but a little dark.
- Brown, Light: Erases completely; works fine.
- Green, Dark: Erases completely; works great.
- Green, Light: Erases completely; works great.
- Orange: Erases completely; works great.
- Pink: Erases completely; works great.
- Purple: Erases completely, but a little dark.
- Red: Erases completely; works great.
- Rose: Erases completely; works great.

Brand: Vis-à-Vis:

- Black: Erases fine, but difficult to use since it matches the color of the dots.
- Blue: Erases almost completely and otherwise works fine.
- Green: Works great and erases completely with water.
- Red: Avoid. Leaves a mark that does not erase except with Isopropyl alcohol.